

Confirmation of StudentAid BC Distance Education Eligibility (CODEE)

Purpose

CODEE criteria is intended to enable non-traditional programs to be compared with traditional forms of delivery in terms of both content and length of study, to ensure the full-time requirement is met. Students enrolled at institutions outside B.C. in academic programs delivered via online or blended learning, must complete a minimum of 60 per cent of a full course load to qualify for StudentAid BC funding as outlined in their current contract with the institution. Institutions may contact StudentAid BC for further clarification.

Introduction:

The CODEE form is required for all students enrolled in studies at institutions outside of B.C. that are delivered through online, blended learning, or other non-traditional delivery methods. If a program has not been reviewed for online or blended learning for the current program year, the student will receive a CODEE request letter posted to their dashboard. The CODEE form must be submitted to StudentAid BC by the institution, with the required documentation.

Who completes the CODEE form?

The CODEE form must be completed by a financial aid officer or registrar who has signing authority on behalf of the institution for student financial assistance purposes.

Helpful tips:

- Download the CODEE form at www.Studentaidbc.ca
- Incomplete CODEE forms, or missing documentation will delay processing of the student application.
- Ensure all information is provided before you submit your CODEE by email to designat@gov.bc.ca.
- Ensure your institution stamp or seal is used.

Instructions:
